Wednesday, October 25*Spotlight Speaker Series – Manny Monterrey*

Producer, Author, and Curator of Latino Arts

Hispanic Heritage Month Speaker

Topic: A Color of Honor

Manny Monterrey's love and commitment to his Latino roots is evident thru his successful multi-media creations and community activism. Monterrey has joined Congresswoman Ileana Ros-Lehtinen (R-FL) to introduce A Color of Honor's Hispanic War Veterans Memorial Act—an effort kicking off in November 2005 to help build the first national war memorial in Washington, D.C. honoring Latinos in the military service who have given their lives for freedom and democracy in all of America's wars.

To bring his message of hope to all youth, Monterrey is active teaching young high school students the arts of journalism and filmmaking through By Youth for Youth productions. Author/Producer Manny Monterrey, originator and executive producer of A Color of Honor: A Tribute to Latinos in the U.S. Military, also created, co-authored and co-executive produced the very successful and first of its kind multi-media award-winning production Americanos: Latino Life in the United States.

Monterrey's landmark projects boast congressional and presidential support, bring awareness of the major roles Latinos have played in all of our nation's wars, and calls on the nation's most powerful institutions to join forces and pay tribute to those who make it their everyday purpose to uphold freedom and democracy.
