Get smart — with YouTube.
Pay for college.

Set up a tuition payment plan
Whether you are paying the full bill for your CCBC education, or are receiving some assistance and still need to pay part of your tuition and fees on your own, you can take advantage of CCBC’s convenient payment plan. Learn more about payment methods and deadlines for the upcoming semester at www.ccbcmd.edu/payment.

Federal and state financial aid
If you are eligible for federal or state financial assistance, your award may be offered in the form of a Pell Grant, state or federal scholarship, loan, or work-study experience. Apply for financial aid EVERY academic year beginning January 1. Obtain your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) Personal Identification Number (PIN) at www.pin.ed.gov. Complete and submit your FAFSA at www.FAFSA.gov (CCBC school code 002063). The ideal time to submit your FAFSA is between January 1 and March 1 to meet the priority consideration deadline for Maryland state scholarships and grants.

CCBC scholarships
There are more than 300 different CCBC scholarships available, based on academic merit, financial need, achievement, leadership or specific program requirements. Visit https://ccbcmd.academicworks.com/ to conduct a custom search of available scholarships.

Other sources of financial assistance
You may also be eligible for financial assistance from veterans benefits, employer tuition assistance, and scholarships from outside sources. Some CCBC students are also eligible for tuition waivers based on Social Security disability benefits.

Meet grade requirements
If you receive financial aid, you need to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) standards that include grade point average (GPA) and course completion in order to keep your aid. Federal regulations require students to meet SAP standards to meet eligibility for Pell Grants, work-study, state grants and loans. Be sure to review the specific requirements at www.ccbcmd.edu/make-the-grade. Check SIMON for important messages about your academic progress and financial aid status throughout the semester.

Plan your financial future
Learn how to build a secure financial future, and uncover the mysteries behind budgeting, saving, credit card interest and more. Visit www.ccbcmd.edu/financial-literacy for details.

Work on campus
If part of your financial aid award includes work-study, you are eligible to work part time on campus to help fund your education. If you are interested in student employment, contact the Financial Aid office as soon as possible. Awards are made on a first-in and first-out basis until all funds are depleted. Notification of student employment awards begins in May for the upcoming academic year.

If you are awarded financial aid work-study funding or institutional employment, start your job search by visiting CCBC Career Services:

- CCBC Catonsville Student Services Center, Suite 166 | 443-840-4435
- CCBC Dundalk Student Services Center, Room 102B | 443-840-3311
- CCBC Essex Student Services Center, Suite 103 | 443-840-1732

The Office of Student Life also offers three on-campus employment opportunities:
- Student Government Association Executive Board members
- Student Life Ambassadors
- First-Year Experience mentors

Each of these offer valuable work and life skills, flexible work hours, convenient locations and financial rewards. For more information, contact the Office of Student Life at any of the main campuses:

- CCBC Catonsville 443-840-4322
- CCBC Dundalk 443-840-3310
- CCBC Essex 443-840-1572

Get help with job search
Career Services offers career information, access to an online job bank, resume and job search assistance and much more. Visit www.ccbcmd.edu/employment/online or visit a campus Career Services office.

- CCBC Catonsville Student Services Center, Suite 166 | 443-840-4435
- CCBC Dundalk Student Services Center, Room 102B | 443-840-3311
- CCBC Essex Student Services Center, Suite 103 | 443-840-1732

Apply early for financial aid and scholarships. And set up a payment plan.

Know your program of study requirements and student responsibilities
Stay on track. Use the CCBC catalog to find program requirements, course descriptions and college regulations at www.ccbcmd.edu/catalog.

Know the Code of Conduct
As a member of CCBC’s diverse learning community, it’s in your best interest to understand and follow the CCBC Code of Conduct. This is where CCBC maintains rules and regulations to promote growth and development, guide student actions, and define sanctions that will be imposed when rules and regulations are violated.

For the benefit of the community at large, these regulations limit certain behaviors and activities to ensure the safety and well-being of our community at large. They also protect the academic integrity, health, welfare, safety, rights and property of the college. Any student whose conduct violates the Code of Conduct will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including suspension or expulsion from the college.

To get to know “the Code,” visit http://www.ccbcmd.edu/catalog/codeofconduct.html. Bookmark it on your laptop or mobile device for easy reference.

Meet with an advisor
You should meet with an advisor when you first enroll at CCBC, and again when you have completed 24 credits and 40 credits. Based on your declared major, you will be guided by one of CCBC’s academic and career PATHWAYS. Advisors will help you understand your PATHWAY and will work with you to develop an educational plan for academic success and completion of your degree. Visit www.ccbcmd.edu/pathways to find out more.

CCBC’s “developmental advising” approach means that, as time passes, you will learn to assume a more self-directed role in your own educational process. Advisors will guide you toward a greater understanding of your course requirements, transfer policies and other practices and procedures.

Advisors will support you through each stage of your academic journey. To ensure the fullest benefit of services, you should make an appointment before the start of registration. Once registration is underway, you can no longer schedule a full appointment but may access advisors on a walk-in basis for quick questions and referrals.

Prep for transfer
CCBC has articulation agreements with many four-year colleges and universities and in a variety of specific degree programs that help ensure a smooth transfer. To be sure you are selecting the proper courses for the college or university and program you wish to enter, always consult with a CCBC advisor BEFORE registering for the next semester.

If you are planning to transfer to a four-year college or university, consult with an advisor early about the major and general education requirements you should take at CCBC. Most general education courses do not need to be taken in any specific order or before required courses for your major. You can also search for colleges and universities that offer particular programs/majors of interest to you. See how your courses will transfer and what remaining courses you need to complete.

Plan to complete your associate degree BEFORE transfer. The payoffs are huge! When you graduate, you are guaranteed admission to any school in the University of Maryland system. Plus, you’ll have a valuable academic credential and maximize your savings towards your bachelor’s degree.

Check your completion status
Use DegreeWorks, a web-based degree audit tool, to easily identify courses you have completed and courses you still need to complete for your program of study and to graduate. Access DegreeWorks through your SIS account under the Student Services tab in the Student Records section. If you have questions about DegreeWorks, send an email to degreeworks@ccbcmd.edu. If you need help understanding your degree audit, visit the Academic Advisement Center.

If you find yourself struggling in or unable to complete your classes, the College and Community Outreach Services at CCBC can provide referrals to community agencies for issues such as food insecurity, housing, clinical counseling, child care and more.

Disability Support Services
Disability Support Services on each CCBC campus works closely with all academic departments and college offices to help provide reasonable accommodations, support services and creative and reasonable solutions to issues faced by students with disabilities. Support provided for students includes, but is not limited to, those with deafness and hearing impairments, learning disabilities, attention deficit disorders, orthopedic impairments, traumatic brain injury and multiple disabilities.

Child care services
Children of CCBC students can take advantage of special rates when enrolling in any one of the CCBC Children’s Learning Centers. The centers offer developmentally appropriate programs for toddlers and preschoolers on all three main campuses, and are licensed by the Maryland State Department of Education, Office of Child Care.

Office of Multicultural Affairs
This office provides access and equity for historically underrepresented groups. The OMA cultivates cultural awareness and appreciation to improve CCBC’s educational climate by fostering an inclusive and civil community. This is accomplished through advocacy, direct services and cultural programming.

International Student Services
CCBC takes pride in attracting and educating students from more than 45 countries across the globe. International Student Services is a source of information and support for CCBC classes, planning transfer to other colleges and universities, and understanding how to maintain status as a student in good standing to meet SEVIS regulations while in the U.S. For more information, visit www.ccbcmd.edu/iss.

Veterans Services
CCBC is attentive to the needs of students who are veterans, active military and reservists. Discover how your military benefits, scholarships, financial aid and academic counseling can advance your progress toward a new career. For more information, visit www.ccbcmd.edu/veterans or visit one of CCBC’s dedicated Veterans Certifying Officials on our campuses.

Veterans Integration to Academic Leadership (VITAL)
VITAL is a partnership program with the VA Maryland Health Care System on the Catonsville campus, where you can find help with making the transition from military to college life through educational support and mental health services. Visit a campus Veterans Center (see below) to access VITAL services.

Computer labs and tech support
Bring your laptop or mobile wireless device and take advantage of widespread and free wireless internet access wherever you are at CCBC. To log in, simply use your student ID and password, just as you do to enter the student portal (myCCBC).

You can also access one of more than 3,400 computers available for student use throughout CCBC campuses and extension centers. Open labs, staffed by knowledgeable lab aides, are available for students who need access to basic assistance with computers. Word processing, spreadsheets, databases, presentation and internet software are available. If you need help, CCBC offers 24-hour technology support for just about any problem. Call 443-840-HELP (4357) or visit www.ccbcmd.edu/myccbc and click the Help Desk icon.

Libraries
Your CCBC student ID serves as your library card and gives you access to a vast collection of books, magazines, audio-visual materials, online services, a PC lab and a study area for the visually impaired. Copy machine services are also available for students who use a low per-page price.

First-generation college student support
If you are a first-generation (neither parent completed a bachelor’s degree), low-income student, you may be eligible for one of CCBC’s two federally funded TRIO Student Support Services Grant Programs. Project SPARK and Project START assist selected eligible students with personalized academic advisement and transfer counseling, academic and life skills workshops, financial literacy training, and semester-long tutoring with the same tutor. Although they are separate, campus-based federal grant programs, both Project SPARK and Project START function as one-stop-shop support groups for their participants, with counselors available in person, by phone or email to respond to questions regarding immediate and long-range academic and financial aid issues.

Eligible students must submit an application and be selected to join either program. To obtain an application or find out more, visit www.ccbcmd.edu/trio or stop by one of the campus offices listed below.

Check out a guest lecture
The Spotlight Speaker Series is designed to extend classroom learning, facilitate intellectual discourse, promote critical thinking, raise awareness about a wide range of topics, present various perspectives and promote values clarification. Past speakers have included Cory Booker, Laura Ling, Paul Rusesbagina and Talib Kweli. Check out www.ccbcmd.edu/speakers for this year’s lineup of speakers.

Community Book Connection
Each year, members of the college community select a book that everyone is encouraged to read. A series of cultural and academic activities — films, plays, dance performances, debates, panels and lectures — are organized to support the project. Traditionally, the book’s author is invited to speak on one of CCBC’s campuses. It’s a great way to come together as a learning community, to strengthen our common human and intellectual bonds, and to demonstrate how classroom discussion and activity are deeply connected to our lives in the everyday world.

President’s Distinguished African-American Lecture Series
Each year, the CCBC President’s Distinguished African-American Lecture Series honors the life and work of a nationally recognized member of the African-American community and inspires and informs an audience of students, faculty, staff and guests about topics of great importance.

Go on an Alternative Break
Student Life’s Alternative Break program exposes students to complex social and cultural issues through community visits, experiential learning, direct service, group discussion, readings and reflection activities. Its vision is to transform students into advocates of social change on issues affecting our communities and the world. Visit a campus Student Life office to find out more.

Enjoy college life.
Commit to a strong finish.
