

Course Outline
MNGT 157
Financial Management
3 Credits

The Community College of Baltimore County

I. Catalog Description

This course is an overview of the various facets and functions of a business enterprise including management, labor relations, and Marketing . Law, accounting, and the Stock Market are among the many topics which are explored and discussed.

II. General Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course the student will:

- A. Have an understanding of finance and its role in business decision making
- B. Understand the differences and similarities between the disciplines of finance and accounting
- C. Be able to employ the time value of money concept to solve both business and personal finance problems
- D. Have the ability to use analytical financial tools in order to solve business finance problems and decisions
- E. Give careful consideration to which field he/she might prefer in planning their career
- F. Be able to increase his/her knowledge of the role of accounting, law, marketing, insurance, and production in the overall business spectrum

III. Methods of Instruction:

- A. Lectures
- B. Class discussions
- C. Analysis of current issues
- D. Written assignments

IV. Method of Evaluation:

- A. Quizzes
- B. Examinations
- C. Term paper
- D. Final examination