Program Description
The ATB Option is a selective, dual degree enrollment option that requires application to the CCBC Associate of Science Registered Nursing Program and a separate application to an ATB university partner. The ATB Option provides an opportunity to begin coursework for the B.S. degree at one of four participating universities while enrolled in the CCBC A.S. Degree Nursing Program. This reduces time for completion of the B.S. degree to approximately two to three additional terms following completion of the A.S. degree. The CCBC A.S. degree program is accredited by the Maryland Board of Nursing and by the Accreditation Commission on Education in Nursing (ACEN).

The ATB Option is offered in collaboration with the universities listed below. Students interested in the ATB Option must submit two separate applications. They must apply to the CCBC RN program and their chosen university. Use the links below to determine course requirements, admissions requirements and application procedures for the chosen university.

- Frostburg State University – a completely online option
  o See Frostburg Information Sheet

- Notre Dame of Maryland University – a primarily face to face option
  o See NDMU Information Sheet
• Stevenson University – a blended option
  o See SU Information Sheet

• Towson University – face to face, blended and some online options
  o See TU Information Sheet

Prospective ATB students are advised to review each university’s program of study and apply to the university that is the best fit for their personal, educational, and professional goals. Students may apply to multiple ATB partner universities. It is highly recommended that students considering application to the ATB Option, attend an ATB Information Session held each January, April, August and October on both the Catonsville and Essex campuses. CCBC faculty and University reps will provide detailed information and be available to answer questions. Email atbnursing@ccbcmd.edu for specific dates and room locations.

This program is designed to prepare students to enter the nursing profession as registered nurses. The curriculum provides theoretical, clinical and laboratory study in nursing that will enable students to learn to work as members of a health care team. Upon successful completion of the A.S. portion of the program, graduates are eligible to take the National Council Licensure Examination of Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN).

The ATB Option is available to qualified students participating in the following CCBC RN program options (all of which require clinical rotations):

• RN day program, offered at Catonsville and Essex campuses, starts every fall and spring.
• RN evening-weekend program, offered at Essex campus, starts only in the fall.
• RN Blended program, offered at Catonsville campus, starts every fall and spring.
  Didactic content is delivered online; campus labs and seminars are required in a face-to-face format on campus.

NOTE:

1. The ATB Option is only available to students who have completed all the ATB general education and additional program requirements prior to starting the Nursing courses.
2. ATB students will travel to the partner university to participate in university courses (except where the partner university offers online courses; all Frostburg courses are offered online).
