Medical Laboratory Technology

Welcome

On behalf of the School of Health Professions, thank you for your interest in CCBC's Medical Laboratory Technology (MLT) program. The MLT program is designed to provide theoretical, laboratory, and clinical (hands on experience in the work environment) experiences which will enable you to function in the health care field of laboratory medicine. Please carefully review the information contained in this guide to ensure you have completed all the steps required for admission consideration.

I wish you the best with submission of your admission application. Sincerely,

Candice Grayson, M.S., M.A., MLS (ASCP)^{CM}

Program Director

Program Description

The A.A.S. degree program in Medical Laboratory Technology is designed to prepare students to function in the highly complex arena of laboratory medicine. Medical Laboratory Technicians (MLTs) perform a variety of complex laboratory tests which play an important role in the detection, diagnosis, and treatment of many diseases and in the promotion of health. They develop data on blood, tissues, and other human body fluids by using highly computerized and automated instruments. They interpret patient results, evaluate quality control test results, and maintain equipment in good working order. This program is offered only at the Essex Campus.

The US Bureau of Labor Statistics states that "Employment of medical laboratory technologists and technicians is projected to grow 16 percent from 2014 to 2024, much faster than average for all occupations. An increase in the aging population is expected to lead to a greater need to diagnose medical conditions such as cancer or type 2 diabetes, through laboratory procedures."

The Medical Laboratory Technology program at CCBC offers the full range of clinical and didactic experiences for students who wish to practice as MLTs. Students will complete clinical rotations in local hospitals and reference laboratories.

Application to the School of Health Professions (SHP) is a separate and competitive process from admission to CCBC. An outside vendor is used to manage the application in the School of Health Professions Central Application System (SHP CAS). CCBC and the SHP CAS are separate systems which require the submission of two sets of transcripts.

Accreditation

Graduates of the program will be eligible to sit for the Board of Certification examination given by the American Society for Clinical Pathology (ASCP). The program is accredited by the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS) NAACLS 5600 N. River Road, Suite 720, Rosemont, IL. 60018-5119; (773) 714-8880.

The student handbook with policies and procedures specific to the program can be mailed to potential students upon request. Contact the Program Director with any questions or concerns.
