- Knowing how to balance what needs to be done and what can be put off for little while.
- Coming to the realization that I'm not going to always have things figured out and catch on to things immediately, school takes time and practice/repetition.

Why did you decide to become an FYE Mentor?: I decided to be a mentor because student life provided me with my mentor and my friends, honestly. I wasn't really a fan of being active on campus, I wasn't even active at school when I was in highschool. Before I was even a mentor, student life provided me with another support system/ family. I wanted to show someone else that they don't have to be alone. I have my own story and my own pathway that I took to be where I am, and if someone can relate and I can help them, then I'm happy.
